

A Horse of a Different Color

There are five primary colors in horse genetics: black, brown, chestnut, bay, and white. From these colors come horses as black as night, to snowy white, to spotted, with manes complementing or contrasting with the horse's coat. Find 19 horse colors and combinations in the word search below. Words run forward, backward, horizontal, vertical, and diagonal. (Don't peek to early, but the answers are on the next page.)
